healing separation

Healing Between Worlds™ is a program of two experiences designed to bridge and mend separation in the world—within us and between us. What makes this work unique is that it starts with internal healing. Through multiple modalities and world traditions, we bridge cultures, boundaries, and divisions in order to reclaim our truest identity. The dream is that each individual transformation will create a ripple that contributes to the evolution of collective consciousness.

We call everyone to return to the world of all potential where together we can contribute to intergenerational healing and remember that we are all kin.

“Wow, what a gift indeed. Walking through this journey with Chris was a revelation. With exquisite insight and depth of soul, Chris vesseled an experience that allowed me to safely tread paths into previously undiscovered territories of my own life. The Journey of The Gift Seeds led me to greater inner integration, fullness of self, and an invigorated sense of my purpose in life. I wish every leader could go with Chris on this journey.

a two part journey

Journey of the Gift seeds

Discover your core capacities inherited from your cultures and ancestors, so you can reclaim the truth of your identity.

2

Power of Eight

Heal and transform any blockages in your ancestral and familial lines, thus opening you to true evolution.

Journey of the Gift Seeds is a way to discover the truth of our identity, enabling us to embrace our own unique power. In this experience, we realize our true inheritance received at birth as well as what has been passed down to us from generation to generation through our families, our ancestors, and our culture. The recognition of this inner potency opens new vistas in our life where we can see things we never saw before and gives us new hope and possibility.

Self-Discovery and Personal Insight

- Participants consistently report discovering new aspects of themselves, even at advanced ages
- The process reveals “concealed treasures” that were previously unconscious

Familial Connection

- Participants feel more connected to their ancestral wisdom and cultural roots
- The process helps integrate gifts from both maternal and paternal lineages

Purpose and Direction

- Many describe finding or clarifying their life’s purpose
- The “Dream Seed” is particularly powerful in revitalizing a sense of direction in life

Emotional Experience

- The journey is often described as profound yet accessible
- Despite addressing deep topics, participants note the experience maintains a sense of lightness and fun

Practical Application

- Many report using these insights and capacities to advance projects and personal development
- The discoveries are “empowering” in day-to-day life when engaged consciously

“The Gift Seeds journey is filled with wonder, discovery and awe. During the experience, I felt wisdom from my ancestors, presence of intuition, release of the old, and joy of the present moment while uncovering the gifts that I’ve inherited for my life journey. Chris masterfully creates a beautiful and powerful ceremony.

RV

“My Gift Seed encounter proved to be extraordinary on multiple fronts. Even though the experience took place over Zoom, it resonated with a profound sense of intimacy. Chris skillfully posed questions, guided meditations, and fostered conversations, ultimately coaxing the names of my seeds from my unconscious mind, akin to a magician revealing a rabbit from a hat. In the ensuing months, I marvel at how these concealed treasures have reemerged, contributing significantly to advancing my life and work.

AM

“Experiencing the Journey of the Gift Seeds was one of the best gifts I could have given to myself. To discover the gifts that are intrinsic to my whole way of being was inspiring. To now use them consciously is incredibly empowering. It is incredible at 77 years of age, there is still more to discover about myself! Chris can take credit for helping me dream once again.

Chris Everett is a seasoned facilitator of transformative experiences for individuals and organizations. He is a musician, artist, designer, strategist, coach, farmer, and co-founder of an arts nonprofit in western Wisconsin called Everwood Farmstead. With over three decades in brand expression and strategy, he is a master at using beauty as a powerful medium for transformation. From his early days in graphic design to deep dives into brand strategy and organizational culture, Chris' career reflects a persistent quest to uncover the deeper meanings of the beauty that we encounter around us and in us.

He is deeply influenced by the Teachings of the Delicate Lodge, an ancient lineage of Medicine Wheel wisdoms called "Walking the Beauty Way"—a commitment to living in right relationship with all of life. Chris is also certified to guide Healing Between Worlds™ experiences designed to heal ancestral trauma.

Adopting the title of "Minister of Beauty" in 2020, Chris embodies the belief in the sacredness of deeply human work and the transformative potential of beauty. Through his diverse roles and experiences, Chris also aids others in navigating their unique evolutionary journeys.
